DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by US/1,998,042 to Boothe.

Regarding claim 1, Boothe disclosed (Fig. 1-3) a fuse cartridge comprising a fusible element (20) electrically connected between two terminals (12, 18) and a second element (looped portions (20)) mechanically connected in parallel with said fusible element (20).

Regarding claim 2, Boothe disclosed (Fig. 1-3) that said second element (20) is provided by looping the fusible element about one of said terminals (18) and mechanically connected at the other end to an insulating portion (10) of the other of said terminals (12).

Regarding claim 3, Boothe disclosed (Fig. 1-3) a fuse cartridge having two terminals (12, 18) that provides the electrical properties of a single wire element and the mechanical tensile strength of two or more wires, the two or more wires being provided by looping the single wire element (20) back and forth between the two terminals (12, 18), a single length of the wire element (20) being electrically connected between the two terminals (12, 18) and having one or more additional lengths of wire element (looped portions (20)) being mechanically connected in between the two terminals (12, 18) but electrically insulated from at least one of the two terminals (12) (member (10) is an insulator (column 2, lines 40 and 41)).
